

Decoding the Disciplines

Virtual (Zoom) Conference: Call for Papers

Theme: (Re)creating Connection & Community

CARTHAGE
COLLEGE

Conference Date

Thursday January 28th, 2027

8am – 11am (US Pacific Standard Time)

Zoom link will be provided to registered attendees

Proposals

The Decoding the Disciplines Core Committee welcomes proposals on any topic in Decoding or Disrupting, including but not limited to experiences with or analysis of the framework, or strategies for increasing participation, with an emphasis on fostering discussion and connection among participants. Abstract submissions (250-word max) should include a selection of session type:

Talk and Discussion (30 mins)

10-15 minute talk followed by specific questions for small or large group discussion.

Participant Idea Exchange (30 mins)

A topic to be briefly introduced by presenter(s), followed by an informal roundtable discussion with participants.

Mini-Workshop (60 mins)

A session with an interactive activity for participants to complete and discuss.

Submission link (also on the Decoding website):

<https://forms.gle/cu35p71GdPYtVMdk6>

Keynote Speakers

Joan Middendorf
& David Pace
Indiana University

TIMELINE

Deadline for submissions:
December 1st, 2026

Decision on submissions:
December 18th, 2026

Registration: January 1st,
2027

Conference program
available: January 7th, 2027

For more information on Decoding, see:

<https://decodingthedisциплиnes.org/>

Direct conference questions to: lcameron@carthage.edu